SPRING HILL COLLEGE

MOBILE, ALABAMA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Fellow Alumni:

I am pleased to extend greetings to the readers of this Spring Hill College Alumni Directory. This directory was published for your use and contains complete and up-to-date information concerning your fellow alumni.

Commencing in 1980, your Alma Mater will celebrate the 150th anniversary of its founding in 1830. Spring Hill has a proud history of meaningful service to generations of young men and women. Since the early days of our college's beginning, the Jesuit Fathers and their lay colleagues have been the guiding force of this educational enterprise, imparting Catholic and Jesuit ideals to those young people worthy of admission. Spring Hill's history is replete with desperate crises and brilliant human responses. Fidelity to purpose and adherence to traditional liberal arts programs are balanced by innovative and imaginative teaching. Through the many decades of crisis and change our college has emerged strengthened in purpose and renewed in dedication to its historic mission.

Among those listed in this volume are some who have given a lifetime of service to Spring Hill, others who have had only the briefest moment of contact. Some have benefited immediately from the Spring Hill experience. For others, years have passed before realizing the importance of their days at Spring Hill.

Each alumnus, though separated geographically from the college, has an impact on the direction and quality of education that their Alma Mater provides. The extent of their impact is measured by their involvement with Spring Hill.

I am grateful for the interest and support of our alumni. May this directory and Spring Hill College be of service to each of you in the days ahead. Asking God's special blessings on you, I am

Sincerely,

Paul S. Tipton, S. J.
President

SPRING HILL COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
MOBILE, ALABAMA 36608

Fellow Alumni:

1980 is a landmark year in the history of our Alma Mater. As president of the National Alumni Association, I would like to congratulate the college on 150 years of service to Mobile, the South, and our Nation. On behalf of all the 7,200 Spring Hill Alumni who live in 49 states and 20 foreign countries, I would like to thank the college for their cooperative efforts in making this directory a reality.

This third edition of the Spring Hill College Alumni Directory (the first in 1930; the second in 1974) is a big cooperative step taken by the College and your National Alumni Association. It is our hope that this directory will help renew old friendships of your college days and make new friends among Spring Hill Alumni who live near you. Much effort has been expended to make this directory as complete and as accurate as possible.

Our Alumni Association has always been a substantial source of support for Spring Hill. As you look to the future, I urge you to keep Spring Hill in mind when considering a college for your son or daughter.

Sincerely,

Gerard F. Rubin '57
President
National Alumni Association

JESUIT EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

One of the twenty-eight Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States and two hundred and thirty-five throughout the world, Spring Hill College is heir to a renowned and successful system of Jesuit liberal education. The system derives its traditions and ideals from four centuries of academic experience and educational wisdom.

The Society of Jesus was founded by St. Ignatius of Loyola in 1534. His world-view led him to emphasize action rather than knowledge or mere feeling — not action in itself, but action enlightened by unbiased reason and reasonable faith. He also emphasized flexibility in the use of all legitimate means and experimentation to discover the most effective means of achieving goals. He encouraged men to do all in their power to build a better earth, a true kingdom of God. It is these and other Ignatian ideals which give Jesuit education its distinctive character.

HISTORY

Spring Hill College was founded by the first Bishop of Mobile, Michael Portier D.D. After purchasing a site for the college on a hill near Mobile, Bishop Portier went to France to find teachers and funds for the new college. Upon his return he rented a hotel next to the college grounds and started the first semester on May 1, 1830, with an enrollment of thirty students.

On July 4 of the same year, the bishop laid the cornerstone of the first permanent building. It stood on the site of the present Administration Building and opened for classes in November, 1831. Spring Hill thus takes its place among the oldest colleges in the south. It is the third oldest Jesuit college in the United States.

In 1836, the governor of Alabama signed a legislative act which chartered the college and gave it "full power to grant or confer such degree or degrees in the arts and sciences, or in any art or science . . . as are usually granted or conferred by other seminaries of learning in the United States." This power was used in the following year, 1837, when four graduates received their degrees.

The first two presidents of the college were called away to be bishops, one to Dubuque (Bishop Loras), the other to Vincennes (Bishop Bazin), and the third, Father Mauvernay, died after a brief term of office. Bishop Portier then found it necessary to transfer the college, first to the French congregation of the Fathers of Mercy, and next to the Congregation of Eudists, both of whom lacked teaching and administrative experience. He then persuaded the Fathers of the Lyons Province of the Society of Jesus to take possession of the college. The new regime was inaugurated with Father Francis Gautrelet, S.J., as president in September, 1847. Since that time, the institution has continued under Jesuit direction. Listed below are the names of all the Jesuit Presidents of the college.

Instruction at the college was not interrupted by the Civil War, but in 1869, a fire destroyed the main building and required the removal of students and faculty to St. Charles College, Grand Coteau, Louisiana. Bishop Quinlan and other benefactors assisted in rebuilding the college, which reopened at Spring Hill before the year's end.

Since that time, 17 buildings have been constructed and five purchased to meet the ever expanding educational needs of the college.

The oldest structure on campus is Stewartfield, an attractive ante-bellum home at the end of the Avenue of the Oaks, which currently houses the President's Office. Erected in 1845, Stewartfield was acquired by the college in 1903.

The Sodality Chapel, which dates from 1850, has served continuously since its erection to house small congregations for religious exercises.

The Administration Building stands on the site of the first building erected by Bishop Portier. Erected in 1869, this three-story building fronts on a quadrangle which includes administrative offices on the east and west, and the chapel on the north. Covered Gothic colonnades join the four buildings. The east wing contains Jesuit Community Rooms and the Gautrelet Room, a large reception area remodeled and redecorated in 1972 and named in honor of the first Jesuit president.

Quinlan Hall, named in honor of Spring Hill's second founder, Bishop Quinlan, is the main classroom building of the college. It also contains a practice gymnasium on the first floor. Erected in 1883, it was enlarged in 1915 and air-conditioned in 1963.

Moore Hall, on the east side of the Administration Quadrangle, is the office building for the humanities faculty.

Yenni Hall, named in memory of Father Dominic Yenni, S.J., respected author of the Yenni Latin and Greek grammars, was built in 1902. It formerly contained the science laboratories and classrooms.

The College Chapel, dedicated to Saint Joseph, the patron of the college, was built in 1907. It is of modified Gothic architecture.

Mobile Hall, built in 1927, is a men's dormitory.

The College Inn, a small auditorium and recreation center, was built in 1931.

The Thomas Byrne Memorial Library, erected in 1931, houses the central library.

Cummings Hall and Kenny Hall, named for a former president and a noted historian of the college, house student activities, special programs, and the Department of Military Science. They were constructed in 1946.

Adjoining the campus is the impressive and modern Assumption Hall. Built in 1952 to house the Jesuit students and some members of the Jesuit faculty, it is currently used for social sciences offices, the Human Relations Center, the Verbal Proficiency Laboratory, as well as a residence hall. It was purchased by the college in 1979.

Walsh Hall, built in 1954, and named to honor Captain Joseph Walsh, a benefactor to Spring Hill, houses women students in the north wing and men students in the south wing.

Deignan Hall was completed in 1958 and renamed in 1967 to honor the memory of Father John V. Deignan, S.J., who founded the department of chemistry and taught Spring Hill students for almost forty years. It is a modern structure and houses the laboratories, classrooms and offices of the Chemistry Department.

The Physics Building contains a large physics lecture room and the laboratories of the Physics Department. Completed in 1959, it also houses a seismographic station.

Three buildings located on Old Shell Road were acquired by the college between 1959 and 1964. Two are used for resident students and a third is the family residence of the college's Dean of Students.

The main dormitory for women on the campus is Toolen Hall, a large air-conditioned building, completed in 1961 and named for the late Thomas J. Toolen, Archbishop of Mobile-Birmingham.

The Campus Center was completed in 1964. This air-conditioned building provides ample and comfortable dining and lounging facilities and contains the College Book Store, Post Office, several meeting rooms and game rooms, the offices of the Dean of Students and of the Student Government, the President's Room, and the student radio station.

O'Leary Hall, completed in 1967 and named after former president William D. O'Leary, S.J., houses 140 women in seventy rooms built in clusters around twelve living-recreation rooms.

Yancey Hall, completed in 1969, is a modern biology building with laboratories, a large lecture hall, library, and faculty offices. It is named for the Rev. Patrick F. Yancey, S.J., chairman of the biology department for years.

The Badgers' Den was constructed in 1979. It adjoins the college's swimming facility located east of the main administration building. This facility provides a quiet and sophisticated atmosphere for students to meet. It houses a student-operated snack bar.

GOVERNMENT

The governance of Spring Hill College is the sole responsibility of the Board of Trustees of Spring Hill College, whose legal title is: The President and Trustees of the Spring Hill College in the County of Mobile, chartered by the Legislature of the State of Alabama on January 9, 1836. The Charter of the College was amended in 1974 and among other provisions provides that the President of the College must be a Jesuit and that a significant number of the Board of Trustees must be members of the Jesuit Order. The College is a Catholic liberal arts college under the sponsorship of the Jesuit Fathers of the New Orleans Province of the Society of Jesus. Spring Hill College is an autonomous institution in its government with all authority and ownership vested in the Board of Trustees and it receives no direct support from either public or ecclesiastical sources.

ACCREDITATION AND AFFILIATION

Spring Hill College is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Its students are accepted for graduate and professional study by leading colleges and universities in all parts of the country. Spring Hill College is certified by the Alabama State Department of Education for the training of primary school teachers. It is also approved by the American Medical Association.

In addition to affiliations in specialized areas and disciplines, the college holds memberships in the Association of American Colleges, the American Council on Education, the National Educational Association, the National Catholic Educational Association, the American Library Association, the National Council of Independent Schools, the Educational Records Bureau, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities, the Alabama Education Association, the Alabama Association of Independent Colleges, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The college is an established center for the American College Testing program and the Educational Testing Service. Tests for admission to professional schools are administered at regular intervals.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Faculty

Spring Hill has an excellent and dedicated faculty, more than half of whom hold doctoral degrees. About 20 percent of the faculty members are Jesuits. The student-faculty ratio is 15:1, and classes are small. The faculty's chief responsibility is to teach and display genuine interest in the individual student; private research and publication are encouraged, but not required. No graduate assistants teach at Spring Hill.

Majors and Degrees

The Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, the Bachelor of Science in Commerce, and the Bachelor of General Studies are offered at Spring Hill College. Majors are available in accounting, art therapy, biology, business administration, chemistry, communications, economics, elementary education, English, finance, fine arts, history, legal studies, marine biology, mathematics, medical technology, philosophy, political science, psychology, respiratory therapy, sociology, and theology. A certification program is available in early childhood and elementary education. Pre-professional programs are offered in dentistry, engineering, law, and medicine.

Academic Program

A minimum of 128 semester hours with an overall average of 2.0 (C) or better is required for graduation. Most Spring Hill students declare their majors in the freshman year, although changes in majors are allowed thereafter. This allows students more time to absorb the material pertinent to their field and permits a more flexible approach to the many liberal arts courses that help to build a strong curriculum. Double majors may also be taken. Four semesters each of English, philosophy, and theology, as well as two semesters of history, are required of all students. A language requirement depends upon the major field of concentration. There are no physical education or religious convocation requirements.

The academic year is divided into two semesters, the first running from late August to mid-December, the second from early January to mid-May. Examinations precede the three-week Christmas vacation. There are four recesses during the school year: October break, Thanksgiving, Mardi Gras break, and Easter. The summer session begins during the first week in June and offers a wide range of courses to local and out-of-town students.

Division of Lifelong Learning

The Division of Lifelong Learning has administrative responsibility for all non-traditional educational programs at Spring Hill College. A program is designated non-traditional if it differs in one of several ways from programs which are a part of the institution's normal educational mission: it may differ in the nature of the program's content; the type of credit awarded; the type of student served; or the format in which the program is offered. Presently, the Division's offerings include a Bachelor of General Studies degree, a Bachelor of General Studies degree for Nurses, the Legal Assistant Certificate Program, the Real Estate certificate, the non-credit enrichment program, short-course seminars and workshops, and an Intensive English Language Institute.

Off-Campus Programs

For those students interested in studies abroad, the junior year may be spent at Loyola University in Rome. In addition, college-affiliated European tours may be taken during the Christmas and summer vacations. Each of these programs carries credit toward a college degree. Programs in oceanography and marine biology are offered in cooperation with the Marine Environmental Sciences Consortium of the Marine Science Institute at Dauphin Island, Alabama. A program in nursing is offered in conjunction with the Providence Hospital in Mobile.

STUDENT LIFE

Since all aspects of the Spring Hill experience derive from the objectives of the college as stated in the Bulletin of Information, the purpose of the Student Life Division is to promote the development of the entire person. Specifically, the division fosters this development by providing a campus environment and experiences which help the students to realize their full potentials as human beings.

In creating this environment and experiences the Student Life Division acknowledges the right of all students to exercise their freedom of thought, discussion and action, which is essential in the development of the entire person, but insists that this right be exercised with respect to the college's philosophy and objectives and so that no hindrance and/or impairment result to the rights of others. Mutual respect must govern the actions of all so that everyone may fully enjoy the benefits of living at Spring Hill College.

Because of the Jesuit character of Spring Hill College, all rules and regulations of the Student Life Division find their basis in Christian respect for human dignity and all legitimate authority. In its role in the development of the whole person, the Student Life Division works with the student to obtain interior consent rather than to impose external control. Compliance with rules is sought not as an end in itself, but rather as a means to instill the maturity and self-possession in the individual which are so vitally necessary for true freedom and self-expression.

The Division of Student Life is administered by the Dean of Students and is responsible for housing, student activities, athletics, health services, counseling, student development, and discipline.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

Spring Hill is a Catholic college. Its catholic traditions, practices, and aspirations are at the center of its institutional commitment. Spring Hill is a Christian community, enhancing the unique "Spring Hill Experience." Its members live, work, and study together to make the reign of God a reality in the academic community, the administrative community, the resident community, and the larger civic community in Mobile. Campus Ministry plays a central role and serves as a catalyst to deepen the faith commitment where it already exists and to challenge men and women to such commitment where it does not exist. It is to nurture Christian growth, faith, and justice within the entire Spring Hill College Community.

Campus Ministry serves the College community in liturgy, teaching, and counseling, and by sponsoring creative community experiences on campus and in the city.

The liturgical needs of the College community are met through an offering of daily and weekend liturgies held in St. Joseph's Chapel, Assumption Hall Chapel, the Sodality Chapel, and in the dormitories. Frequently during the academic year a special Rite of Reconciliation is offered. Retreats are provided off campus for interested students.

Outreach is a Spring Hill College and city-wide program providing opportunities for students to volunteer their time, talents, and creativity in the service of other people. Tutoring, assisting in nursing homes, serving the physically and mentally handicapped and orphans are a few of the activities of the group.

GENERAL INFORMATION

BIOGRAPHICAL

Alumni are listed in alphabetical order. Following each name are class year, degree, occupation — including company name, address and telephone — and residence address and telephone.

Married alumnae are listed under married name and maiden name.

Biographical data is included if a questionnaire card was returned or if it was possible to obtain the data by telephone. In all other cases only the name and address, furnished from the college files or the post office, are included. Only the names of living alumni appear in this directory.

CLASS YEAR

Alumni are listed under the class year for their undergraduate work or the first degree program attended at Spring Hill.

GEOGRAPHICAL

Alumni are listed under the residence state and town. Foreign countries and overseas possessions and affiliates are shown under Miscellaneous following the state listings.

TWO-LETTER STATE ABBREVIATIONS

In the alphabetical section, state names used in addresses are shown as two-letter abbreviations. Following is a list of the abbreviations:
